

Assembly

MORNING ASSEMBLY does not form a separate dimension of the curriculum but is integrally interwoven into the entire fabric of the school programme. Our School lays great emphasis on imbibing values in the assembly. Short skits and role plays based on the lives of great men and women are discussed elaborately which lays stress on principles such as discipline, honesty, respect for elders, patriotism and courage. For the purification of mind, body and soul, shlokas are chanted. Stress is always laid on developing a self disciplined approach to life and studies; to have a discriminating mind, the courage to tread new paths, and to follow the dictates of one's own conscience even if it means being different.

The School lays great emphasis on imbibing values in all the students. The articles, poems and passages read out in the assembly are based on wisdom of the past with an eye to the future At school we provide a comprehensive education that will serve both in career as well as in personal life-an education that will prepare a child for a life time of learning.
