This IDS curriculum activity "Greener World," mapped with UN SGD 15 "Life on Land," focuses on conservation of forests and reforestation. In this project, the students will do a detailed study and survey of the forest cover in India, France, and Ghana for the past five years, prepare a report in the form of a PPT to showcase the present scenario, and do an analysis of the same to improve the forest cover in the chosen countries for a better greener world. This activity will be undertaken in collaboration with our partner school in France. This collaborative effort will help to create awareness amongst the students and inculcate a sense of responsibility and respect towards nature.

PROJECT - GLOBAL CONNECT: FOOD AND CLOTHES

People also connect to their cultural or ethnic group through food and cloth patterns. Food and clothes are often used as a means of retaining their cultural identity. People from different cultural backgrounds eat different foods and wear different clothes. This activity will help students get aware of the importance of food and clothes in our lives. They will also learn about the food and clothes of other states, i.e., Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, and countries like France, Nepal, and the UK. They will explore and compare how the food and clothes vary according to the climatic and geographical location of countries and states of India under study.

PROJECT - FOOD MANIA

"Food is our common ground, a universal experience."
Food is one of the essentials that we all need. Its production takes hard work. The value and importance of food is the key focus of this activity. This activity will help to inculcate a responsible and sensitive attitude of the students towards the exchange of cooking vocabulary, recipes, writing of nutritional values, and different types of food of partner countries like Ghana and Nepal with their own country, India. They will also be involved in the sharing of different food varieties and cultures with the peer group and partner friends of other countries.
